Thought for the Week – from Caroline

REVIVAL ... To bring back to life

I have been watching Todd Bentley and the Lakeland revival meetings and it is so like God to raise up a man who is covered in tattoos and looks like a biker – it's a brilliant move, not unlike using John the Baptist whose clothes were made of camel's hair, wore a leather girdle about his waist and ate locusts and wild honey (I bet he raised a few eyebrows as well).

Mike Bickle wrote this in his book "Passion for Jesus" first published in 1994: "I believe a great harvest of souls is coming. Tens of thousands will be added to the church in many of the major cities. God's people must be ready, since we are the ones who will be caring for the multitudes that come. History reveals that we will reproduce converts after our own kind. We will impart what we possess into those new believers."

He also said this: "Oh, how I want to be a part of a glorious, spotless church in our generation – a church filled with the knowledge of God, reflecting His glory and consumed with passion for Jesus. Such a church will be prepared to engage in the great conflict that is to come."

Wow!

I believe Revival is breaking out all over the British Isles right now in our time in our generation. What a privilege – we must be part of this and not miss it .
